

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF AMHERSTBURG

BY-LAW NO. 2003-18

A By-law respecting the fortification of land

WHEREAS section 133 of the Municipal Act, 2001, S.O. 2001, c.25, as amended, provides that bylaws may be passed by a council of a municipality as follows:

- (a) regulating the fortification of and protective elements applied to land in relation to the use of land; and
- (b) prohibiting the excessive fortification and excessive protective elements being applied to land in relation to the use of land.

AND WHEREAS access to, and exit from land, buildings and structures may be required by municipal and law enforcement officials and/or emergency services personnel;

AND WHEREAS the fortification of and protective elements applied to land may restrict, obstruct or impede access to and exit from land, buildings and structures;

AND WHEREAS the excessive fortification of land or the application of excessive protective elements to land is likely to pose a serious risk to the health, safety and welfare of municipal and law enforcement officials and/emergency services personnel when confronted with such land when acting in the course of their lawful duties or in response to emergency situations and as well to the occupants of land whose ability to escape an emergency situation is or may be hindered or prevented;

AND WHEREAS the excessive fortification of land or the application of excessive protective elements to land is likely to pose a serious threat and integrity of abutting land as well as the owners and occupiers thereof restricting, obstructing, impeding or preventing municipal and law enforcement officials and/or emergency services personnel from responding to emergency situations effectively and in a timely manner;

AND WHEREAS the council of The Corporation of the Town of Amherstburg deems it necessary for the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants of the Town of Amherstburg to enact a by-law providing for the regulation of the fortification of and protective elements being applied to land in relation to the use of the land and to prohibit the excessive fortification of land or excessive protective elements being applied to land in relation to the use of land;
